Advanced Data Systems:

The Picture of Health in Healthcare Automation!

When considering systems for your practice, group, or enterprise organization the vendor is equally as important as the software, and perhaps more so.

In fact, in a recent survey conducted by Healthcare Technology Online, the number one reason for selecting software had nothing to do with the software! It was vendor viability.

That's why you should consider Advanced Data Systems (ADS).

Not only does ADS produce excellent systems as part of its Medics Solutions Suite, the company is the picture of health and viabiility as a healthcare automation vendor!

- ADS began automating medical practices in 1977.
- The company name has never changed.
- ADS has never "sunsetted" a system.
- ADS remains a solid, debt-free, privately owned, US-based company dedicated to its clients and to the systems we produce.
- Implementation, Training, Support and Updates are provided by ADS and its employees…not by outside or third party companies.
- ADS has never failed to provide required updates prior to their deadline dates…that's hundreds of updates since 1977!
- ADS has a solid history of working with industry partners and for perfecting hundreds of interfaces of its Medics systems to other systems, hospitals, HIEs, labs, diagnostic equipment and more.

So while our Medics Solutions Suite is robust, user friendly, and time-tested in the real world, ADS is equally as time-tested and has been relied upon by physicians, medical practices and revenue cycle management (RCM) companies, uninterruptedly for almost forty years.

Contact ADS for more company information, and to schedule a personalized presentation of the Medics Solutions needed by your practice or RCM company.

See why thousands of physicians rely not only on systems from ADS, but on ADS itself!
